Web Music Player — using HTML, CSS, and JS
A basic prototype of a music player interface with functional play, pause, and forward song buttons and a banner of playing song is shown.

StudySphere (Team project)— using Java and Firebase
An Android app that helps students to view their course materials, submit assignments, track their progress and interact with professors.

Notes App— using ReactJS
A short note-taking web application using ReactJS which allows us to add and delete short notes with a heading and a description.

To-Do list — using ReactJS
A simple and beautiful looking to-do list application that allows us to add new to-do tasks, strike-through, and delete them.

Google search chrome extension
A google chrome extension that allows us to search the web through a small window in any tab without opening a new tab just for google search.

Drum kit— using JS
A prototype of drums in which the user can make different sounds by clicking different buttons.
